Your tasks

- From the very first day of your training, you'll literally be making a difference here: unloading, loading and packing – from incoming goods right through to the dispatch of our products, you'll keep everything running smoothly.
- Using our inventory management system, you'll learn to schedule so skilfully that there are no delivery bottlenecks, either within production or for our customers.
- In doing so, you'll ensure both smooth transport and professional, space-saving storage, plan logistical delivery routes and prepare the dispatch documents.
- In short: we'll turn you into not just a packing expert, but also a goods and logistics professional of tomorrow.

What you bring with you

- At least a good secondary school leaving certificate
- Technical understanding and spatial awareness
- A focused and meticulous approach to work
- Reliability
